GRAB ORCHARD.

—Memorial Day was duly observed here by the Lieut Severance Post G. A. R., and we have not seen such a crowd in our little hamlet since the last circus was here. It is said that 500 participated in the exercises. This is an occasion of deep solemnity, as much so, we think, as any funeral can be, and if such a brotherly feeling had been exercised before 1861 how different would have been the history of our grand Republic. We are told one million men laid down their lives in a cause they each considered right and just, and it is a touching sight to witness veterans of each side uniting to pay their respects to the ashes of those who fell. They are all equal now. At rest, till the final trump shall call them to account to their Maker, and it is in the happy month of May, when nature is her fairest, that we twine wreaths to show our respect to their memories. In our cemetery here in Crab Orchard is placed a tall marble shaft and in a circle around it are placed the remains of the unknown Federal dead, who fell at Wild Cat Mountain. Misses Alice and Pauline Hardin, Col. Welch, James Gilkerson, Dwight Hardin and others of our town raised the money for this monument, had the dead placed in our cemetery and too much praise cannot be given them. We were told that this circle of dead soldiers was neglected by the decorators and much unpleasantness was the result. I asked Mr. John Warren about it and he told me very emphatically that this was not the case; that that the monument was covered with all kinds of flowers and at each headstone was placed a tiny flag. There was an excellent speech by Wm. B. Hansford, which for sublimity and depth of thought excelled anything heard lately. The committee extend their heartfelt thanks to him, the ladies who assisted in the exercises and to the C. O. band, whose sweet music added much to the solemnity of the occasion. Several war songs were sung at the graves and the occasion will long be remembered by our people.

—Johnstown, Pa., which was practically swept away by the floods three or four years ago, is now more prosperous than ever, and has a population of 36,000.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Miss Fannie Collier, of Louisville is the guest of Miss Mattie Elkin. Mr. Will Dunn, of Danville, was over Sunday. Mr. Dick Denny, of Stanford, visited Mr. George Denny's family Sunday. Misses Jenkins and Mahan, of Danville, will visit the Misses Currey this week. Mrs. Bettie Landram has returned from a visit to Richmond. Mr. John M. Logan is here this week.

DANVILLE

—An organized band for the purpose of smuggling Chinese into the United States has been discovered in Vermont and Quebec. Three Americans, two Chinamen and a woman, reedgnized leaders of the gang, have been arrested.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville turned out 150 young preachers last week to forage on chicken and pie at the public's expense.

EVERY FRIDAY.

COL. W. O. BRADLEY'S oration at the opening of the Kentucky building at the World's Fair was worthy of his fine reputation and has been the subject of highly complimentary comment. It was a most ornate and scholarly production and was applauded to the echo. The Louisville Times says of it: In catholicity of sentiment, in breadth of vision and beauty of expression that address was worthy the speaker, the State and the occasion. Even Kentucky Democrats take off their hats to one whom we would not have ruled over us; but whom we are proud to have speak for us as he spoke at the World's Fair yesterday.

PROF. JOHN WAMMAKER, who bought and paid for his seat in Harrison's Cabinet, has emerged from his "cheap clothing" store at Philadelphia to say that it is his private opinion, publicly expressed, that all Christians should boycott the World's Fair if the management persists in keeping it open on Sundays. There are many goody-goody people in this world and Cheap John seems to be the apostle, along with the Rev. Withrow, of Chicago, who proclaims in warning tones that "the Lord will vent his wrath on the city, even as he did in the days of Samuel and Jeremiah," if the show is shown on Sunday.

JUDGE HUGHES should not let his angry passions rise. He relied on Mr. Carlie's promises that he should have the collectorship of this district and now in his wrath he says that the secretary deliberately lied to him. This won't do. Calling names will do no good and may do harm. The judge made the unfortunate mistake of failing to secure Gov. McCreary's endorsement in the first place. The governor never fails to get what he goes after and the man who thinks he can ignore him will get left in his pursuit of Federal office.

THE Louisville Critic says that Col. Stoddard Johnston has retired from his rainbow chase for the surveyorship, which he entered under rather shady circumstances. The colonel never was in it, though if he ever had a ghost of a chance that private letter to the president, which that gentleman didn't see until it was printed, sent even that glimmering. His offer to sacrifice himself on the altar of office to help Mr. Cleveland out of a dilemma was patriotic, probably, but unappreciated.

SENATOR PARKER is being criticised for having been absent from the General Assembly six months and drawing his per diem all the time. The point is, however, not well taken. Senator Parker is as much entitled to his pay as those who are on hand. They are all doing nothing but robbing the State of $1,000 a day. Let the governor call out the troops and scatter the aggregation to the four winds or run them into the penitentiary for obtaining money under false pretences.

THEY've been at it again in the Legislature. Senator Roberts pronounced a statement made by Senator Board "a d—d lie," but as usual somebody was on hand to pull the belligerents apart before they got together. This is to be regretted. A Kilkenny cat fight all around would please the people more than anything the members of the General Assembly could engage in, besides it would stop their "per diem," a consummation devoutly to be wished.

INSTEAD of threatening to remove its exhibit from the World's Fair if the gates are opened on Sundays, the American Bible Society should insist that it should be the only one allowed to exhibit on the Lord's Day. If all that sinful herd is to be turned loose on the first day of the week, commonly known as Sunday, to see the show, surely it can't harm them to look at the Bibles if they do not take time to read them.

GEN. BAIL W. DUKE, who is eminently fitted for the exacting position, has taken editorial charge of Fetter's Southern Magazine and that excellent periodical will be further improved. The public as well as the owners are to be congratulated. Gen. Duke is a man of fine literary attainments and excellent judgment and the magazine will take on a new lease of life.

IT is now said that Dr. Briggs will become a Congregationalist. If the doctor would meander away to Kamtschatka or some other sea-port and quietly die, the public would enjoy a long-needed rest. These ecclesiastic frauds are calculated to make one very weary, besides it's getting too hot to even think of the place they are all tending.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has returned to Washington from Hog Island, prepared, let us hope, for a wholesale slaughter of the rascals. Three months have passed since the inauguration and still the boys look longingly, and so far in vain, for the crumbs that fall from the rich official table.

PENSIONS are being drawn for nearly every cause, real or imaginary, but it was reserved for J. J. Hamlin to get one for corns. Since this precedent has been established, it is said that every old coffee-cooler not now fraudulently on the lists has gone regularly into the corn-raising business.

HARRIET BRECHER STONE has lost her mind and now amuses herself cutting paper dolls, singing old time songs and nursery ballads. The retribution is deserved. Her Uncle Tom's Cabin as now presented is enough to drive anybody crazy but the fools who continue to rush to see it.

NEWSY NOTES.

—Five persons were burned to death in a tenement-house in New York.
—Mrs. Jefferson Davis has decided to make Richmond, Va., her permanent home.
—Four firemen were killed and many persons injured by falling walls at Omaha, Neb.

—The Victoria Cordage Co., of Cincinnati, has assigned. Liabilities $400,000; assets about the same.
—The Appalachian Steel and Iron Co., of Big Stone Gap, Va., has been placed in the hands of receivers.

—The Federal court at Chicago refused to issue a temporary injunction and the World's Fair was open again Sunday.

—A negro at Decatur, Ill., criminally assaulted two white women and was lynched in open daylight by unmasked men.

—Tony Silvester, of Springfield, Ohio, attempted suicide by eating the heads off of matches. He is in a critical condition.

—In the Fifth Kentucky district there were 22,542,381 gallons or 563,762 barrels of whisky made during the year ending June 1.

—Ten chiefs of divisions and clerks were appointed for the pension bureau in preparation of the work of reform to be done.

—The May debt statement shows that the reduction during the month was $739,425.99. The total public is now $961,750,888.63.

—Mrs. Harriet Fible, widow of David M. Fible, the Eminence distiller, was struck in Chicago by an engine and died of her injuries.

—Joe Brothers shot his brother Henry in the face with a load of bird shot during a quarrel near their home in Marion county.

—Sixteen employees of the Kansas City post-office were discharged for hypothecating their salaries and forming a ring to swindle money lenders.

—The remains of three of Jefferson Davis' sons and a grandson were quietly re-interred in the Davis lot, Hollywood cemetery, at Richmond.

—Wm. Wilson, a Marion county farmer, blew his head off with a gun, but failed to tell anybody what made him wish to shuffle off his mortal coil.

—Frank Smith, a prominent stock buyer of Columbus, Ind., was attacked by wild bees and stung on his face and body over 1,000 times. He will die.

—June 15 is set for German Day at the Fair. It is expected that 150,000 German-Americans from Chicago and 100,000 from other cities of the country will attend.

—The Courier-Journal's Frankfort correspondent figures it out that the Legislature can easily wind up its business and adjourn by July 1 and possibly by June 20.

—The Electricity building of the World's Fair was formally opened last week. There are 350 arc and 35,000 incandescent lights employed in the illumination of the building.

—The Tennessee Senate found Judge Dubose guilty of two of the 36 charges against him of misdemeanor in office and debarred him from ever again holding office in the State.

—Baron von Surma Jeltsch, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary for Prussia at the Court of Stuttgart, Wurtemberg, has been appointed German Ambassador at Washington.

—The Plankinton Bank of Milwaukee has made an assignment. The failure of F. A. Lappen & Co., who owed the bank $219,000, and the constant withdrawal of deposits, brought about the assignment.

—A Springfield, O., man named Chas. Fauldner struck his employer with a curry comb, from the effects of which he died. Fauldner is dying of remorse, something entirely new for an Ohio man.

—Hon. S. E. Mores, of Indiana, Consul General to Paris, in an interview at Washington, said that Gen. Harrison's friends in Indiana are actively preparing to present the ex-president as a third-time candidate in 1896.

—A. R. Sutton, the Louisville whisky broker and forger, has at last been released from jail, his friends having made the required bond. He says if it hadn't been for the newspapers he would never have been taken to prison.

—A Virginia veteran still has a mule which he rode through the war and he and his animal were in the parade at Richmond Wednesday. The mule is now 38 years old and he has kicked everything except the bucket.

—Harry Hill, the Atlanta society man, who forged the name of the wife of an Atlanta Bank president and skipped with the money obtained by it, was arrested at Chicago. The matter threatens to precipitate a very huge sensation.

—Twenty-six miners were burned to death Saturday in the Fuenti coal mine, in Mexico, four miles from Eagle Pass, Texas.

—The whole force of Standard Oil employees at Whiting, Ind., have decided to strike unless the company gives them a 9 hour working day with no reduction of wages.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—W. H. Hays bought of Beazley Bros. a horse for $100.

—George Evans bought in the East End 17 fat cattle at 3c.

—Joseph Coffey sold to E. B. Lee a lot of butcher stuff at 2½c.

—Will Hays sold to Beazley Bros. a mare and mule for $235.

—Beazley Bros. had a fine mule killed by the cars Friday night.

—James Bland sold to a Garrard county party a gelding for $150.

—Of George Wilkes' 83 producing sons 71 are doing active stud service.

—Traylor Bros., sold to Fisher, of Madison, a bunch of fat cattle at 3c.

—For Sale.—Yearling Durham bulls ready for service. W. H. Murphy, Stanford, Ky.

—Hamilton Ormsby, near Anchorage, sold 23 well-bred trotting horses for $4,735, an average of $205.

—The Dudderar Bros. have purchased of various parties a nice bunch of calves at from $12 to $15 per head.

—J. H. Boone bought of T. M. Boone a lot of 125-pound hogs at 6c and of W. McCarty 15 same at 5½ to 6c.

—J. T. Nunnally, of Fayette, had a mare to drop three fine filly colts. They are all alive and doing well.

—A statistical fellow figures that the 1:59½ point will be reached if the trotting record is reduced this year as much as last.

—Watermelons are coming into the city market from Florida, but the prices put them out of the reach of ordinary mortals.

—J. T. Rose, of the West End, sold to W. H. Prewitt 300 lambs. Those for June 10 delivery sold at 6c and those for July at 5c.

—W. M. Dudderar bought of H. A. B. Marksbury, of Lancaster, 500 bushels of strictly good wheat at 50c per bushel delivered at Hayden.

—David Walter shipped six cars of lambs to the Cincinnati market this week that cost him from 6.40 to 6½.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

—Of the stockholders of the St. Joseph, Mo., Fair Association, 40 are worth $25,000 or more and 14 are millionaires. This might be considered a pretty safe association.

—At the sale of the thoroughbred yearlings of J. B. Haggin at Morris Park, New York, seven of the get of the great Salvo brought $24,000, an average of $3,585.

—M. F. Elkin bought of George P. Bright a fat cow for $35; of Luce one for $30; of George Evans a lot of butcher stuff at 3c, and of A. D. Root a lot of 125 pound shoats at 6c.

—Even a portion of the $300 purse for saddle stallions would be a big advertisement for your horse. Enter him and you may get the biggest piece. E. C. Walton, Sec'y Lincoln County Fair.

—Beazley Bros. & Hays shipped to Lexington on yesterday their fine saddle stallion, Silver Tip. He will be at once put in the hands of Nelson Rowland and trained for the Stanford and other fairs.

—The Record says: There was an increase in the production of tobacco in Garrard county last year, compared with '91, of over 150,000 pounds. The crop that year was 180,550 pounds, while in '92 it was 348,970.

—The entries to the $300 saddle stallion purse are coming in right along and at present it looks as if the ring will be full. No man with a saddle stallion can afford not to enter in this ring and to even get a piece of the money will be the greatest advertisement imaginable.

—At Palo Alto the horseshoer is never allowed to use a knife on the feet of the trotters. The rasp only must be carefully used and should there be any marks of it on the outside of the hoof, a prompt dismissal of the employee would follow. Very little trouble is ever experienced with the horses' feet on this immense farm.

—Best wool is now quoted at 18c on the Danville market. Hon. D. L. Moore, sold 250 sheep cattle to Buffalo, N. Y., parties at 4.80. Farmers say they don't hear any "Bob Whites" whistling. The heavy snows annihilated them. A. J. Whitley delivered to W. A. Prewitt 70 lambs that averaged 67 lbs. They were sold at 6½c.—Advocate.

—"Doc" Drye, of Hustonville, will have a string of horses at the fairs this year that will be exceedingly hard to down. The first on his list is King Chester, by Chester Dare; then Sentinel, owned by George Alford, with a record of 2:29; W. A. Tribble's fine combined mare; a black mare by Nobby; a 2-year-old colt by Gilt Edge and the great saddle mare of John Bangham, which took a number of blue ties last year and which was thought by some horsemen to be as good an animal as J. E. Farris' great Allie G. Mr. Drye will have his horses here and the man who carries off more money than he will have to rise mighty early in the forenoon.

Fifty cents is a small doctor bill, but that is all it will cost you to cure any ordinary case of rheumatism if you use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Try it and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. The first application will quiet the pain, to cent bottles for sale by W. B. McRobert, Druggist, Stanford.

ALL owners of dogs must at once pay taxes on them and put a collar with a number on each dog they own. O. J. Newland, city marshal.

THE declaimers were anticipating a packed house last night. It was expected to be the best show of the season and one that no one could afford to miss.

W. H. BRADY found a live tarantula in a bunch of bananas Saturday. Fortunately he saw it in time, or we might have had to chronicle a serious mishap to the clever young merchant.

THE oldest inhabitant doesn't remember a commencement Sunday or a circus day in Stanford without rain, and the last didn't prove exceptions by several jugfuls.

RENTS' Circus drew a tremendous crowd to town Saturday, but it was a very orderly one and no disturbance of any consequence occurred. The show was only fair to middling.

THIS is great growing weather, with rain and sunshine alternating, and a high temperature, but then we can have too much of a good thing, and most of us are ready to cry "Hold, enough," even if we are damned therefore.

If it is the early bird that catches the worm, Mr. T. J. Hatcher will be our next jailer. He announces himself in this issue as a candidate.

THE members of the County Committee are requested to meet at J. B. Paxton's office in Stanford, on next Monday afternoon, county court day, at 1 o'clock, to decide on the date and the method of holding the primary. R. R. Gentry, Chairman.

THE young people are looking forward with much pleasure to a "kid party" to be given by the boys at George Ellis' on Monday evening, June 12, and a return party by the young ladies of the "Rainbow Society" at Miss Ethel Beasley's on the Wednesday evening following.

MASHED.—While going down Mill street Saturday the wagon containing the circus tent poles turned over and Harry Russell, an attache, was caught under them. He was badly mashed in one arm and leg, but his wounds are not fatal. He said his home is in Boston and that he had been ring boy till recently.

WANTED.—To sell cheap for cash, ceiling, siding, flooring, base casings, mouldings, framing and fencing, and all kinds of yellow poplar, pine and white oak lumber. Dressed lumber and building materials a specialty, and for cash we will knock the bottom out on low prices. For prices address The Dillon Manufacturing Co., Dillon, Ky.

THE College Concert will be given at Walton's Opera House Thursday night, to which the usual fee of admission will be charged. The programme is a comprehensive one and a first-class entertainment is assured. The commencement will be held in the same building Friday night, when the customary exercises will be varied with a delightful opera and other pleasing features.

THE supper given by the young ladies of the M. P. C. Society for the benefit of Rev. George O. Barnes netted $28 and proved a very pleasant occasion for all who attended. The cream, strawberries and cake were delicious. Bro. Barnes and family were present and seemed to enjoy themselves very much. The evangelist kissed each of the young ladies and they feel more than repaid for their efforts.

WHISKY KILLED HIM.—Squire W. L. Dawson, acting as coroner, summoned a jury Friday and held an inquest over the remains of Ed Evans, the blacksmith who was found dead at his home the day before. After hearing statements from several persons who were acquainted with the habits of the deceased, a verdict was rendered that "he came to his death from heart disease caused by excessive use of liquors."

A STRANGER, pretty well filled with booze, amused himself by starting the electric light machinery in motion while the circus was here Saturday. Engineer Holderman was busy and did not see him until the machinery was running, but when he did find out what had been done the drunken stranger was knocked down and dragged out on such short notice that he did not know what struck him.

THE whisky fight in Lancaster waxes exceedingly warm. Lawyers J. Mort Rothwell and L. F. Hubble were only prevented from giving a street exhibition of their muscle and shooting qualities by the interference of friends. The trouble grew, says the Record, over some uncomplimentary remarks made by Mr. Rothwell about Preacher Frank, which was resented by Mr. Hubble, who got all and more than was at first given to his friend. Don't get excited boys. Let only dogs delight to bark and bite.

WE have been taught from infancy to believe without question everything that appears within the lids of the Best of Books, but we must confess that our faith in the promise that the Lord will no more destroy the earth with a flood was severely shaken Sunday. It has never rained as it did then since the famous shower of 40 days and 40 nights, and we bethought those who were out in it. A young lady remarked that she had heard of it raining pitchforks, but she had never seen or heard of whole reservoirs, rivers and lakes coming down in one solid sheet.

THE jail and residence are being painted a brick red and trimmed in stone color. The Belden Bros. have the contract.

At last there's a rift in the rain cloud, if a weather bureau prediction can be called a rift. The dispatch yesterday read, "Showers, followed by fair Tuesday, cooler." Let us pray that it will come to pass.

LINNETTA Park Springs will open on next Saturday, 10th. The annual opening ball will occur Wednesday evening, June 14th. Regular hops every Friday evening, June 16th excepted. All are cordially invited to attend. Address all communications to James D. Shelby, Junction City.

THE Stanford Gold Band has reason to be proud of the concert it gave Friday night. It was really good and we hereby withdraw the assertion, for which we have been repeatedly taken to task, that the Lancaster band can beat it playing.

For the practice it has had and the "raw" material with which it began a few months ago, there are mighty few bands that can do better and it gives us pleasure to make the amende honorable. All the numbers of Friday night's program were given very correctly and with an animation which was really surprising. Mr. Wm. Severance's tuba solo was greatly complimented, while Dr. W. B. Penny brought down the house with his euphonium solo. The entertainment was varied by a selection from Robin Hood by Miss Isabella Bailey, who showed how fast she is mastering that kind of musical instruments, the violin. The exhibition of her cultivated talent was highly gratifying to her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Steele Bailey, and to her numerous friends, who were pleased to note her rapid advancement. A beautiful tableau, in which Miss Annie Green and little Miss Lucile Cooper took part, was very artistically presented. Miss Alice Holmes again added laurels to her pretty brow and proved how gifted she is in song by the sweet manner in which she gave the "Angel's Serenade." Miss Gertrude Howard, her teacher, played the accompaniment and Mr. B. H. Danks the violin obligato. Miss Holmes was so loudly cheered that she again appeared and sang another solo, "Flowers of the Alps," even more sweetly than the other. Miss Essie Burch, who has elocutionary abilities of a most pronounced order, recited the "Spanish Duel" and was winning golden opinions, when her voice broke down, owing to a severe cold, and she had to retire behind the scenes, greatly to the regret of the audience, which heartily sympathized with her. A "Grand Musical Smash-up" ended the entertainment, which was thoroughly enjoyable from first to last. We congratulate the entire band generally and particularly its director, Mr. B. H. Danks, on the complete success of the undertaking. Mr. Jas. H. Calvert, of Junction City, assisted with his cornet, and in behalf of the band and others due acknowledgements of his assistance is made. The receipts were nearly $100.

PLAYED FOR A SUCKER, BUT GETS HIS LUCK BACK.—R. C. Fain, a merchant at a small town near Richmond, and who is old enough to know better than to fool with circus fakirs, played a little game at Richmond Friday and was $550 behind for so doing. Rentz & Co. showed there that day and Fain, who is pretty fond of filthy lucre, ran up against an aged gentleman, who said he was in the county prospecting. They mutually agreed to go to the show and went off arm in arm. On the interior of the side-show were a couple of fellows with a lot of cards and they were running what they called a draw game. This attracted the attention of the aged Fain and his newly made friend and they at once decided to "buck against it." The old gentleman was evidently a confederate of the "slick ducks" and he and Fain for a small amount of money drew a couple of cards which entitled them to $350 each. The proprietors of the money-making scheme told Fain and his friend that if they would each show that they were worth $550 in cash they would be taken as partners in the game and in a few days would make as much money as they wanted to and would be given the $550 each besides. Fain and friend were separated and Fain went directly to the bank, secured $550 and returned. He laid the pile down before the sharks and as quick as lightning they grabbed it and fled. The old man saw he was outwitted and his first thought was how to get the "stool" back. After consulting friends he decided to come here and accompanied by Marshal Feeney, Constable Bush and Attorney W. S. Moberly, he drove through, arriving a little in advance of the circus. Fain after a few hours spotted the two men who had gotten his cash and they were taken by Marshal Feeney to a room in the Myers House and informed that the money must be handed over. Of course they denied having seen Fain, but the old man insisted that they were the right parties and the money must come, or they would be taken to Richmond and tried. After a consultation between the two sharks, they agreed to give up all they had, which was $515, and which was soon placed in the hands of Fain, whose face, though full of wrinkles, was beaming with delight at the thought of the return of the money. There is said to be no fool like the old fool, but he is the biggest of all fools who thinks he can beat a professional at his own game.

THE band boys desire to thank Mrs. Dr. Steele Bailey, Misses Isabella Bailey, Gertrude Howard, Essie Burch, Alice Holmes, Annie Green, Nora Moreland, Lucile Cooper and the V. A. M. Society for valuable assistance they so kindly rendered in their recent concert.

MR. A. R. PENNY does not want to be considered an aider or abettor of a circus and is not going to be. John Robinson's bill-posters slapped up some flaming posters on his fence on Depot street Friday night and early Saturday morning he paid a negro $1 to pull them off.

WE are glad to note that our old democratic friend, Mr. J. W. Whipp, has been appointed post-master at Liberty, vice R. T. Pierce, a good man, but a republican, removed. Mrs. S. J. Bengtson has been appointed at Bryan, Clay county, and Miss Susan F. Sears at Spruceburg, Whitley county.

THE candidates for the Legislature, Messrs. M. F. North and Harvey Helm, addressed the people at the court-house yesterday upon the issues of the day and their own claims to the honor they seek. Each proved himself a good speaker and fully able to take care of No. 1. Several matters of a personal nature were indulged in and the prospect is that we are going to have a red-hot race.

THIRTEEN went into J. P. Crow's store at McKinney, Friday night, and relieved the safe of $181, most of which belonged to Mr. A. B. McKinney. The door of the store as well as of the safe was left open and it only required a man with enough nerve to walk in and help himself. Bub Engleman and Mr. McClure were sleeping in the next room, but neither heard any noise and as yet there is no clue to the thieves.

CIRCUIT COURT.—In due and ancient form this court was inaugurated yesterday at 10 o'clock, when after the following grand jurors were selected and sworn in, Judge M. C. Sautley delivered the address in his usually clear and concise style: J. E. Wright, foreman; J. M. Hall, James Lawrence, G. M. Gittens, Eugene Kelley, W. M. Lackey, James Dudderar, J. G. Lynn, J. A. Frye, J. H. Collier, P. W. Carter, J. M. Sibold.

The petit jurors are as follows: S. Dunbar, J. M. White, W. T. Tucker, J. M. Coffey, Isaac Herrin, J. C. Hays, L. D. Garner, T. J. Hill, L. B. Adams, T. J. Robinson, J. M. Hubble, Alex. Traylor, Wm. Perkins, P. L. Simpson, L. R. Jones, C. Vanoy, Richard Bibb, J. H. Bright, G. A. Peyton, A. R. Penny, H. P. Young, P. S. Hughes, Jack Murphy, W. H. Higgins.

Several minor cases were tried including one against Geo. W. Baker for carrying concealed weapons and he was acquitted. The judge gave away for the legislative candidates at 1:30 and they held the boards for an hour or two.

Versatile Weather.
The boys wanted to go skating, but the clerk of the weather seemed to object. First, it rained; then it began to blow, then it snowed; then it cleared up, and the sun came out; then it began to snow again.
"I never saw such weather," exclaimed Hal, turning from the window in disgust. "It's horrid! It's—I don't know what to call it!"
Bill also strove for a word to express his feelings.
"Yes, I think so too! It's—it's—the most versatile weather I ever saw!"—Harper's Young People.

Moral Lesson.
A large boy was pounding a smaller one on Lexington avenue. A gentleman interfered and separated them.
"What were you beating him for?" indignantly asked the gentleman of the older boy.
"He has got some cigarettes and he won't divide 'em, and I was just trying to coax some of them out of him!"—Texas Siftings.

Willing to Condescend.
"I—I must not listen to you, Mr. Capphead," protested the blushing girl, with eyes downcast. "You are only trifling, and—and, besides it is getting late."
"Please hear me out, Miss Helen!" pleaded the infatuated young reporter. "I'll cut it down to two hundred and fifty words!"—Chicago Tribune.

Honors Even.
Mr. Van—You look charming to-night, my love.
Mrs. Van—Indeed? Thanks! I'm surprised you should say so even if you thought it.
Mr. Van—Yes, I'm surprised that you should look so, even if I had said it!—Town Topics.

A Bit of Comfort.
Little Johnny—Was I born on a Thanksgiving day?
Mamma—Yes; but if you keep on being such a bad boy, I don't know what I'll have to be thankful for.
Little Johnny—Well, you can be thankful I ain't twins, anyhow.—Good News.

A Great Scheme.
Jack—How are you going to spend the summer?
Tom—I'm going to put it in traveling from one summer resort to another until I find a girl worth a million or two who wants to be loved and married for herself alone.—Truth.

Home, Sweet Home.
She—So she married that bald-headed old chap? Why, I heard he had been blackballed at every club in town.
He—That's why he married; for a home.—Life.

The Darlings.
Clara—I am afraid this silk waist of mine won't wear.
Maude—Why not? I didn't suppose there was a chance of any of your waists wearing out.—Detroit Free Press.

The Point of Vision.
Perdita—I saw Dicky kiss you last night—rather timidly, I thought.
Ella—Yes; but you should have seen us where it was absolutely impossible for anyone to have seen us!—Truth.

Bore a Trade Mark.
"What is the name of the butter-dealer's pretty daughter behind the desk?"
"Oleomargarine!"—Judge.

A READY REFERENCE.
He—You don't remember me; I met you at the seashore.
She—I don't seem to recall you.
He—Strange; maybe you lost the ring I gave you to remember me by. She (extending both hands)—Pick it out; it may serve to identify you.—Truth.

The Power of Taffy.
Judge Duffy—How did you come to steal this lady's pocketbook?
Prisoner—I did it to get even with her. She stole my heart the moment she looked at me with those lovely eyes. Lady refuses to press the charge and the case is dismissed.—N. Y. Recorder.

Bon Voyage.
Jim Hickey—I feel terribly rocky this morning. I went to see a friend off for Europe last night.
Ed Stokes—Did he get off?
Jim Hickey—I guess so; I know I did!—Brooklyn Life.

Baby's Mistake.
The Wife—The night you were away, John, the baby cried for nearly seven hours.
The Husband—Why didn't you tell him I wasn't here; he would have stopped then.—Boston Globe.

Judged by Appearances.
Maude—Why do you think she's a strong-minded woman?
Ellen—Her children always look so frightfully unwashed.—Chicago Record.

More Sensible.
Trivet—Look out for counterfeit two-dollar bills.
Dicer—I'd rather look out for genuine ten-dollar bills.—Truth.
A Confirmed Bachelor.
Cholly—I intend never to marry a woman who knows more than I do.
Cynica—So you intend to remain a bachelor.—Jury.

Nepotistic Privileges.
Egbert—Where are you working now?
Cholly—Great heavens! I'm not working. I'm employed in me fathah's bank.—Chicago Record.

A Slothful Debtor.
Bigeye—The only debt I owe is the debt to nature.
Cynicus—Well, why don't you pay it? You might get a discount off for prompt payment.—Puck.

A Sure Sign.
Hobbs—He's madly in love.
Cobbs—Why do you think so?
Hobbs—Look at the variety of neckties he wears.—Chicago Record.

With Golden Chains.
Marlow—So Bessie has actually allowed herself to marry that old miser, eh?
Ethel (sighing)—Yes, emulating Andromeda, you know.
Marlow—How so?
Ethel—She is chained to the rocks!—Town Topics.

Barred Out.
Mrs. Celluloid—Why doesn't your husband go to church with you?
Mrs. Collette—He couldn't afford any new clothes, and he looks too shabby beside my new wrap.—N. Y. Herald.

Couldn't Tell the Difference.
Customer—Waiter bring me another order of this limburger cheese.
Waiter—Why, that's butter.
Customer—Well then bring me an order of carboic acid.—Brooklyn Life.

Leading Up.
"I expect to fight this chills and fever," said the bilious-looking but determined man, swallowing another dose of quinine, "to the bitter end."—Chicago Tribune.

Murder Most Foul.
Two Hamlet he played. He slew the king, And ran Polonius through.
Likewise Laertes, and all the while He was murdering Shakespeare too.
—N. Y. Herald.

An Impossibility.
Haverly—I think that Chapleigh is more knave than fool.
Austen—Impossible!—Life.
